“The LCC T&R team helped to bring my daughter home”. Read this article on how a passenger was evacuated within one day from New York.

One of our passenger was planning to relocate to India in the month of April 2020 from New York. With the rapidly changing COVID-19 situation, she decided to arrive early and changed her Etihad ticket to 19th March paying a stiff penalty to the airline. On 16th March late night the passenger called her mother to inform that all the travelers who are transiting through UAE will have to undergo mandatory quarantine according to the latest update from Ministry Of External Affairs, India. Her mother connected with us for immediate assistance on the situation.

She reached us in Kolkata on 17th March with extreme worries, to discuss on the possible way outs and receive latest updates on the changing situations. We delivered all the relevant information and guided her to take a decision based on the situation. After measuring all the possibilities, it was decided to fly her daughter out the very next day. Our team swung into action and with persistent communication with the airlines we managed to book a ticket on Air India from New York by afternoon. The issued ticket was delivered online to both the passenger and her mother who took a sigh of relief after huge stress.
